361 Students of other Colleges attended Intercollegiate Lectures.

There were 1294 Students working for Degrees and 653 for Diplomas.

The geographical districts from which the Students came are given in Appendix I. (see p. 69).

The total fees available for the service of the Session 1924–25 amounted to £61,211 4*s.* 11*d.*, an increase of £2,013 1*s.* 0*d.* on the previous Session.

THE CURRENT SESSION (1925–26).

The number of Students who have completed their registration and paid fees up to January 31st, 1926 (including Vacation Courses), is 2863, as compared with 2555 (excluding Vacation Courses) at the corresponding date in 1925.

The fee revenue (including fees of London County Council and Board of Education Students) to January 31st, 1926, amounts to £57,455, showing an increase of £2,968 as compared with the corresponding date in 1925.

GENERAL FINANCES.

Financial Year 1924–25.

The Accounts for the year ended 31st, July 1925, are appended to this Report (Appendix II., pp. 71–87).

College Establishment Income and Expenditure Account.

Income.—The ordinary income amounted to £171,022 18*s.* 3*d.* as compared with £168,943 7*s.* 8*d.* in 1923–24, an increase of £2,079 10s. 7*d.* The improved position, as compared with 1923–24, is accounted for almost entirely by an increased fee revenue of £2,013 1*s.* 0*d.*

Expenditure.—The ordinary expenditure amounted to £174,524 13*s.* 1*d.* as compared with £176,994 11*s.* 3*d.* in 1923–24, a decrease of £2,469 18*s.* 2*d.*

The decreased expenditure is due mainly to the economy, amounting to over £2,900, effected under the headings of Administration, Departmental Maintenance and Maintenance of Premises. Against this, however, must be set an increased expenditure of about £500 under the headings of Pension Allowances, Scholarships and Prizes, and Payments to Union Societies.

The excess of ordinary expenditure over ordinary income for the Session 1924–25 was, therefore, £3,501 14*s.* 10*d.* To this excess must be added the sum of £2,072 11*s.* 0*d.*, the balance of the total cost of £7,072 11*s.* 0*d.* expended on the alteration of the Science Library, towards which a non-recurrent grant of £2,000 was made by the Treasury.

The expenditure on the reconstruction of the Departments of Applied Mathematics, Physics and Botany, and the heating of the South Wing amounted to £9,963 3*s.* 3*d.* Of this sum, £1,951 17*s.* 6*d.* was included in the accounts for the Session 1924–25, and a balance of £7,476 10*s.* 4*d.* remains to be met in future years commencing 1925–26.

It will, therefore, be seen that the total accumulated debt at the end of the Session 1924–25 amounted to £16,030 11*s.* 11*d.*

The Balance Sheets.

(i.) Trust Funds Balance Sheet :—

There has been added to the Capital Account during the year the sum of £3,000 received from the University towards the Endowment Fund of the Galton Laboratory.

(ii.) General Balance Sheet :—

The following sums have been added to the College Capital Account during the year :—

(a) Alteration and redecoration of the Science Library, towards the cost of which the Treasury made a non-recurrent grant of £2,000	7,072	11	0
(b) War Memorial Scholarships — amount handed over by the War Memorial Committee for the provision of Scholarships to be awarded to the sons and daughters of former students of the College or Medical School who fell in the war	2,000	0	0
(c) James Eccles Bequest—for general purposes of the College	2,034	8	11

The College has also received from the M. J. M. Hill Testimonial Committee a sum of £250 7*s.* 11*d.* This sum, together with deposit interest amounting to £6 7*s.* 11*d.*, has been set aside to form a Special Loan Fund bearing Professor Hill's name.

The Current Financial Year.

Estimates 1925–26.

The estimates for the current Session (1925–26) show an excess of ordinary income over ordinary expenditure of £3,342, and provision has been made to set aside not less than £2,500 of this surplus as an annual instalment towards the liquidation of the accumulated debt referred to above. It has only been possible to provide this estimated surplus by applying rigid economy in the matter of maintenance and upkeep of premises, and no work is being carried out during the Session except that which is regarded as absolutely essential.

H.M. Treasury, through the University Grants Committee, have increased the Annual Grant to the College for the quinquennium 1925–30 and the College Committee have, as far as the financial position justifies it, applied the increased revenue in making further sums available for the Libraries and in improving the salaries of full-time Professors and Readers. Provision has also been made to meet the more pressing needs of the non-professorial staff. It is not, however, possible to improve the salaries of the non-professorial staff to the extent that is desirable until the accumulated debt has been liquidated and further revenue obtained. The London County Council have increased their annual grant in respect of the salaries of certain full-time Professors and Readers retrospectively as from 1923–24 for the purpose of raising those salaries to a minimum of £1,000 and £500 respectively.

Urgent Needs.

Members and friends of the College are invited to assist by giving subscriptions towards the extraordinary expenditure referred to in the foregoing.

In fixing the amount of the Annual Grants to Universities and Colleges, H.M. Treasury, acting through the University Grants Committee, takes into consideration the amount of income secured by "local effort." An increase in the amount obtained from sources other than the Treasury may, therefore, result in additional Treasury aid. The attention of intending subscribers is invited to important Income Tax and Super-Tax concessions of which particulars are given on the accompanying subscription form.

Full particulars of the urgent needs of the College have been included in the Centenary Appeal. The next section of this Report deals with that portion of the activities of the College.

THE CENTENARY APPEAL.

A document setting forth the urgent need for £500,000 for the various purposes of the College was issued in October 1925. The Appeal was formally launched at a Luncheon at the Mansion House on 29th January, 1926, under the Chairmanship of H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught. At that Luncheon donations amounting to £39,303 were announced. It is hoped that within the next few months substantial progress will have been made in the task that the Appeal Committee have undertaken.

The following is a brief summary of the objects included in the Appeal:—The Great Hall, £30,000; Endowment of Teaching, £225,000; Completion of the Gower Street Front, £25,000; Chemical Laboratories: Electrical Installation, £15,000; Zoology and Comparative Anatomy: Site and Buildings, £50,000; Applied Mathematics and Physics: Re-construction and Equipment, £8,000; Engineering: Completion of Laboratories and Equipment, £18,000; Accommodation for Faculties of Arts and Laws, £25,000; Chemical Engineering Laboratory: Equipment and Endowment, £60,000; Libraries: Endowment and Reconstruction, £30,000; Scandinavian Studies: Endowment, £10,000.

As the Appeal document has been placed in the hands of all friends of the College whose addresses are known, it is unnecessary to recapitulate details here. All the objects are of greater or lesser urgency. Attention may specially be called to the one which comes first on the list, namely, the Great Hall, which is most urgent from the point of view of time.

If the Centenary Celebrations are to be fittingly observed at the College, it is essential that the Great Hall should be reconstructed and equipped by the Spring of 1927, the time proposed for the Celebrations. This means that the work should be put in hand next Easter (1926), but a sum of £20,000 must be available before this is done. Up to the present only £4,380 has been definitely ear marked for the purpose. The Union Societies have decided that the sum which they aim at raising by the beginningof March for the Appeal (£5,000) shall be devoted to the Great Hall. This may b taken as evidence of the view of the Students of the College as to the urgent need for a suitable and dignified Great Hall.

The sum of £225,000 for the Endowment of Teaching has been included in the Appeal with the hope of thus removing the hampering restriction of inadequate funds that has been so long felt in this connection.

Friends of the College who have not yet responded to the Appeal are asked to give the matter their serious consideration. If the special effort that is now being made is not carried forward to a successful conclusion, the efficient maintenance of the work already undertaken by the College and the developments that are urgently required will be seriously affected. It is felt that success can only be achieved if every past and present member of the College takes some part in the effort. Any who have not already received a copy of the Appeal document, or who would like further copies, are asked to communicate with the Secretary.

H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught is Patron of the Appeal; the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Rosebery and Midlothian, Vice-Patron; the Rt. Hon. Viscount Chelmsford, President; the Right Hon. Lord Meston, Chairman; the Rt. Hon. Lord Loch, Deputy Chairman; and Sir Robert Kindersley, Treasurer. Donations should be addressed to Sir Robert Kindersley at the College.

THE COLLEGE COMMITTEE.

Two vacancies in the Committee were caused by the lamented death of Sir Rickman Godlee, Bt., to which reference is made elsewhere (p. 23) and the resignation of Sir John Cecil Power. These have been filled by the appointment of the Rt. Hon. Lord Loch and Sir Maurice Sheldon Amos as members of the Committee.

Mr. Percival Boyd was appointed, on the nomination of the Drapers' Company, to succeed Mr. Quincey, whose resignation was reported last year.

Mr. Digby Besant was appointed Joint Treasurer with Mr. F. V. Schuster, in succession to Mr. Quincey.

Professor R. W. Chambers, Professor A. V. Hill and Professor Jeffery were appointed three of the representatives of the Professorial Board vice the late Professor Platt, Professor J. P. Hill, and Professor Watson. During the absence of the Provost, Professor H. E. Butler, Acting Chairman of the Professorial Board, has also been a representative of the Board on the Committee.

THE PROFESSORIAL BOARD.

The following have been appointed members of the Professorial Board under Statute 24, Sub-section (4):—Mr. J. Haantjes, Reader in Dutch Language and Literature; Mr. T. L. Wren, Reader in Geometry; and Miss M. A. Murray, Assistant Professor of Egyptology.

Mr. J. H. G. Grattan has been elected a member of the Board for the current session, vice Dr. Elizabeth Fraser, as one of the six members of the Academic Staff selected by ballot under Statute 24 (5) and Regulation 29.

REPRESENTATIVES.

HER LATE MAJESTY QUEEN ALEXANDRA.

Her late Majesty Queen Alexandra had shown her interest in the development of the work of the Department of Scandinavian Studies by graciously accepting the office of Patroness of the Fund that the Scandinavian Studies Committee is attempting to raise. On the occasion of a Special Reception and Concert of Scandinavian Music held at the College on Friday, October 30th, 1925, to inaugurate the section of the Centenary Appeal relating to this Department, the following telegram from Sandringham was read :—

> I hear with great interest of the Scandinavian Concert to be held this evening at the University College, and as Patroness of the University of London Scandinavian Studies Fund I wish it every success. I am convinced that the teaching of the Scandinavian Languages and Literature will tend to foster the good relations which exist between those countries and Great Britain.—ALEXANDRA.

His Majesty the King has been graciously pleased to express his entire approval of a proposal that the Danish Lectureship, when established on a permanent basis, shall be known as "The Queen Alexandra Lectureship in Danish," it being felt that there can be no more fitting memorial to Her late Majesty's interest in the development of the Department of Scandinavian Studies than the Lectureship in her mother tongue.

H.R.H. the Prince of Wales has shown his interest in the proposal by making a donation to the Fund. The total sum required for the Endowment of Scandinavian Studies is £10,000, of which £3,500 is needed for the Queen Alexandra Lectureship in Danish.

DEATHS.

The Committee record with regret the death of the following persons connected with the College :—

The Rev. W. P. Acworth (former Life Governor),

Miss A. Attree (former Matron of University College Hall. [25th October, 1925.]

Mr. W. W. Rouse Ball (a Senior Fellow). [4th April, 1925.]

The College was represented at the Funeral Service at Cambridge by Professor G. B. Jeffery. [See also p. 48.]

Mr. George Franklin Browne (Former Governor).

The Rev. J. Nelson Burrows (Former Governor).

The Rt. Hon. Lord Carmichael (Former Member of College Committee). [16th January, 1926.]

Sir Rickman J. Godlee, Bt. (Fellow; Emeritus Professor of Clinical Surgery [Chair of Clinical Surgery 1892–1907]; former member of College Council; member of College Committee). [20th April, 1925.]

The College was represented at the Funeral by the Vice-Chairman of the College Committee (Sir John Bradford), Professor R. W. Chambers, Professor F. W. Oliver, and Professor G. Elliot Smith.

At their meeting in May 1925, the College Committee passed the following resolution :—

"That the University College Committee desire to place on record their profound sense of the loss sustained by the death of Sir Rickman J. Godlee, Bt., Fellow of the College, Professor of Clinical Surgery from 1892 to 1907, Emeritus Professor of Clinical Surgery, a former member of the College Council, and, up to the time of his death, a member of the College Committee. As such, and as Editor of the projected Centenary History of the College, Sir Rickman Godlee was actively at work for the College to the end of his life. His long connection with, and knowledge of, College affairs made his counsel invaluable, and his keen intellect, and wise intuitive judgment, allied to a clarity of expression, will be sorely missed at the Council table.

"The College Committee desire to express to Lady Godlee and other members of the family their respectful sympathy in the loss that has befallen them, and their gratitude for the great services rendered to the College community as a whole by Sir Rickman Godlee."

Dr. N. Kulchitsky (Lecturer in Histology). [30th January, 1925; the result of an accident at the College.]

The College was represented at the Funeral at Bournemouth by the Acting Chairman of the Professorial Board (Professor H. E. Butler) and Dr. F. W. Goodbody.

At their meeting in May 1925, the College Committee associated themselves with the following resolution which had been adopted by the Professorial Board :—

"The Professorial Board of University College desire to offer their heartfelt sympathy to Mrs. Platt and her son and daughter, and to record their own deep sense of loss by the death of Professor J. A. Platt. They mourn a brilliant scholar, a great teacher, and a man of many-sided learning, a loyal colleague, and a delightful companion, who for thirty years gave unstinting and devoted service to the College which he loved so well."

A bookcase containing a collection of books, including many of his own favourites, has been placed in the Professors' Smoking Room by some of his friends in memory of Professor Platt.

Mr. Charles Platts (Fellow).

Mr. F. Robins (Caretaker of the Chemistry Building. In the service of the College since 1898). [8th June, 1925.]

The College was represented at the Funeral by the Senior Tutor (Colonel Harris), Professor R. W. Chambers, Professor Ernest Gardner, Professor M. J. M. Hill, Professor F. W. Oliver, and the President of the Women's Union Society (Miss Grobel).

A Memorial Service was held in St. Pancras Church on 14th January, 1926, which was attended by many members of the College.

Mr. M. Kinoshita, who received an appointment in the Institute of Physical and Chemical Research, Tokio, and Mr. F. Rowan, have resigned their posts in the Department of Heating and Ventilating Engineering.

Mr. P. L. Capper, Assistant in Civil and Mechanical Engineering, and Dr. H. Monteagle Barlow, Assistant in Electrical Engineering and Lecturer in Design, have been appointed members of the Faculty of Engineering.

ADMINISTRATION.

The continuous strain of office borne by Sir Gregory Foster as Head of the College since 1904 threatened to have such a serious effect on his health that, on the advice of his doctor, he was compelled at the beginning of 1925 to seek a respite from his duties. The Senate granted him leave of absence for twelve months as from 28th February, 1925.

During his absence, the various sections of the Provost's work have been delegated as follows:—Professor H. E. Butler, with the title of Acting Chairman of the Professorial Board, has taken his place on the Senate and the various University and College committees; Colonel H. J. Harris, as Senior Tutor, has discharged his duties in relation to students; Dr. Walter Seton, Secretary, has carried on the other administrative and the financial work of the College.

The Committee record with satisfaction that reassuring reports have been received in regard to the Provost's health, and it is their earnest hope that he may return to his duties early in March with his health re-established and his former energy renewed as a result of his visit to South Africa.

The lamented death of the Tutor to Women Students, Miss Winifred Smith, is recorded on page 25. Miss Edith Goodyear, who has acted as deputy to Miss Winifred Smith during the latter stages of her illness, has been appointed Acting-Tutor to Women Students, pending the appointment of a successor in the office.

THE WORK OF THE FACULTIES.

The Report presented by the Acting-Chairman of the Professorial Board (Professor Butler) at the Assembly of Faculties last July deals with the chief events of the Session 1924–25. The following brief summary of matters supplementary to the Report presented at the Assembly of Faculties is given here to make the record of the year as complete as possible:—

FACULTY OF ARTS.

In the Faculties of Arts and Laws the need for more spacious Lecture Room accommodation and for many more Private Rooms for members of the Academic Staff continues to be a pressing one. The sum of £25,000 has been included in the Centenary Appeal for the purpose.

The Bartlett School of Architecture.

The Report of the Professor on the Bartlett School of Architecture for the Session 1924–25 is appended hereto (p. 99), from which it will be seen that Students of the School have again been successful, in competition with others, in carrying off some important awards. It is gratifying to have this evidence of the good work done. A further indication of the interest taken in the School by those connected with the architectural profession is given by the institution of new prizes by outside benefactors. These are recorded in another section of the Report (p. 48). Two Exhibition Bursaries to enable Students who have taken the Third Year Course to proceed to Fourth and Fifth Year work have been instituted this Session.

The Slade School.

The Slade School has again been quite full and there is a waiting list of Students applying for admission. Mr. Emile Jacot, a Student, was successful in obtaining the British School at Rome Scholarship in Sculpture for 1925. Members of the School continue to be well represented in the various contemporary Art Exhibitions. The experimental practical work in Decorative Painting has been so successfully carried out by Students that the scheme is being continued, the results fully justifying the experiment. Considerable interest has been aroused thereby, and one generous donor, Sir Joseph Duveen, has given £200 in order that the work may be developed. By the departure of Mr. John Wheatley to take up the post of Professor of Fine Art in the University of Cape Town, the staff of the School has lost the services of an enthusiastic and inspiring teacher.

School of Librarianship.

The Director's report on the School of Librarianship for the Session 1924–25 is appended (p. 93). It again presents a long list of appointments obtained by Students who have qualified. A new development this Session is the institution, as an experimental measure, of an Evening Advanced Course in Abstracting, Indexing and Classification, suitable for Post-Diploma Students, in which external experts hsve been invited to co-operate with the teachers of the College. The number of Students so far enrolled for the current Session is ninety-two, of whom sixty-five are working for the University Diploma. There is abundant evidence that the School meets a definite need, and the means of placing it on a permanent financial basis is one of the problems that have to be solved in the near future.

English.

The Department of English is deprived of the services of Dr. Charles Sisson this Session, leave of absence having been granted to him to enable him to accept a temporary appointment at the University of Wisconsin. Mr. H. V. Routh, of Bedford College, has kindly undertaken some of his lectures, and the rest of his work has been divided among the staff of the Department. Mrs. Blackman and Miss Batho were absent during the First Term on account of illness, but are now happily able to resume their duties.

Scandinavian Studies.

A full reference is made on p. 23 to the efforts that are now being made, as a part of the Centenary Appeal, to secure the Endowment Fund of £10,000 necessary to place the Department of Scandinavian Studies on a permanent basis. Considerable interest is felt in the Scandinavian countries themselves and it is hoped that, with their co-operation, success will soon be achieved. Thirty-three Students registered for the various courses in the Department at the opening of the Session. In addition, there is a steady attendance at the Public Lectures that are given each term by the three lecturers, the final lecture of each course generally being delivered in the language of the country. It is, therefore, evident that the need for the Department exists and that the work should be continued.

Egyptology.

The work of the British School of Archæology in Egypt has continued its operations with great activity under the direction of Professor Sir Flinders Petrie. The Annual Summer Exhibition showed the results of recent excavations at and near Qau and in the Fayum, in the course of which further objects of the Badari Period were found. A great deal of work was done on the lake-levels in the Fayum.

FACULTY OF LAWS.

Day Courses are now provided in the Faculty of Laws for the full Three-Years' Course; the number of Day-Students registered this Session is 30. Provision is also made for the Students working for the new LL.M. degree. The Honorary Lectureship in Year-Book Study, to which Dr. W. C. Bolland has been appointed, is a new teaching development.

FACULTY OF SCIENCE.

Physiology and Biochemistry.

By the appointment of Professor A. V. Hill to a Foulerton Professorship of the Royal Society, the Department of Physiology loses as its head one who is eminent in his subject and who is inspiring as a teacher and director of research. Under his guidance many important investigations were carried out in the Department last Session, some thirty persons being thus engaged either as post-graduate students or as honorary and part-time members of the Staff. These researches have in several cases been aided by financial grants to individual workers from such bodies as the Medical Research Council, the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, the Royal Society, the Rockefeller Foundation, the Governments of Egypt, Mysore and others. It is a matter of great satisfaction to all concerned that Professor Hill will retain his direct association with the College by carrying on his work as Foulerton Professor in rooms placed at his disposal in the Department. In recognition of his high reputation and valuable services to the University during his tenure of the Jodrell Chair, the Senate have continued to him the title of Professor of Physiology. The appointment of his successor is expected very shortly.

The title of the Department has been changed to "Physiology and Biochemistry," instead of "Physiology" as hitherto.

Applied Statistics.

The Department of Applied Statistics is actively carrying on investigations and research, but is hampered by the lack of funds necessary for the provision of special apparatus. As a result, some investigations cannot be undertaken.

Applied Mathematics.

The Department of Applied Mathematics has felt the benefit of the improved accommodation made possible by the removal of Anatomy. The Junior Laboratories have been moved from the Birkbeck Building into the old Anatomy Dissecting Room. The whole of the First Floor of that section of the buildings, with the addition of a room at the North End, has now been assigned to the Department, and provides accommodation for both Junior and Senior Laboratories. The former Senior Laboratory is now used as a Computing Room. The old Anatomy Lecture Room on the Ground Floor has been transformed into an Astronomical Laboratory, with dark room attached. In consequence of the appointment of Colonel Harris as Senior Tutor during the absence of the Provost, it has been necessary to relieve him of some of his teaching work, which has been divided between Mr. F. C. Harris, a Research Assistant, and Mr. T. J. Mahon, who has been temporarily appointed for the purpose.

Physics.

The Department of Physics has also benefited by the provision of a new building for Anatomy. The reconstruction of the Department includes additional General Laboratory accommodation, and has set free for purposes of research rooms that had previously been used for undergraduate teaching.

Chemical Engineering.

The Department of Chemical Engineering has completed a full Session's work with satisfactory results. Seven Students were registered in the Session 1924–25, of whom one left to take up an appointment. The equipment of the laboratory has been completed to the extent allowed by the funds allocated for initial expenses, but a greater expenditure is necessary for the proper development of the Department, especially for the purchase of apparatus for research work.

FACULTY OF ENGINEERING.

The equipment of the new Engineering Laboratories cannot be completed until the necessary funds are forthcoming, but great benefit is felt in both undergraduate and postgraduate work as a result of the recent extension of the Engineering Wing.

In the Department of Electrical Engineering, a great deal of last Session was occupied in setting to work and supplementing the equipment of the new laboratory for electrical measurements, chiefly in connection with telephony and telegraphy. This equipment was provided by the aid of a grant from the London County Council and is in many respects complete. Professor Fleming's special Advanced Course on "Mercury Arc Lamps and Mercury Vapour Rectifiers" was attended by members of the staff of the General Post Office and of the large Electric Companies.

FACULTY OF MEDICAL SCIENCES.

A step forward has been made in regard to the examination system of the Faculty of Medical Sciences by the approval by the Senate of a scheme whereby the Practical and Viva Voce portions of the Second Examination for Medical Degrees, Parts I. and II., may be held at the Schools of the University. The College will avail itself of this privilege in respect of the examinations in March and July, 1926.

In the Department of Anatomy a special development has been co-ordination between the work of the Dissecting Room and the X-ray Department, Radiology thus being used as a means of teaching Anatomy. Co-ordinated research in Comparative Neurology has also taken place, as a result of which the teaching of Neurology, both to medical and to science students, has been much more efficient than hitherto. The death of Professor Kulchitsky has proved an almost irreparable loss to the Department on account of his unique knowledge of Histology and histological technique. The actual post held by him has not been filled, but Mr. R. J. Ludford has been appointed an Honorary Lecturer in Cytology.

In the Department of Hygiene the training meets the new requirements of the General Medical Council. Of the 57 postgraduate Medical Students at work in the Department last Session, 30 obtained the Diploma in Public Health.

THE LIBRARY.

The accessions to the Library during the Session 1924–25 amounted to 5,446 volumes and 3,926 pamphlets, of which 2,773 volumes and 2 534 pamphlets have been presented. The total number of volumes and pamphlets in the Library at the end of the Session was 254,368.

The Donations include the following items of special interest:—

(a) A collection of 72 volumes and pamphlets, presented by Sir Gregory Foster.

(b) A collection of books on Oceanography, including a set of the 'Siboga' Expedition publications, presented by Dr. G. H. Fowler.

(c) A sum of £50 for the benefit of the Scandinavian Library, presented by Mr. I. C. Gröndahl.

(d) A collection of 103 volumes and 295 pamphlets of Mathematical works, presented by Professor M. J. M. Hill.

(e) 201 volumes and 49 pamphlets bequeathed by the late Leonard A. Magnus, a Student of the College from 1896–1904.

(f) A collection of books from the Library of the late Professor J. A. Platt, presented by Mrs. Platt.

(g) 145 volumes and a sum of £10 from Sir John F. Rotton.

(h) A selection of books from the Library of the late John Marshall, a Student of the College in 1874–5, presented by Mrs. Seaton.

(i) Two letters from Thomas Campbell, presented by Dr. Walter Seton.

117 volumes of duplicate books have been presented by the College to the University of Tokio as a contribution towards the new Library which is being formed to replace the one destroyod in the recent earthquake.

The time of the Library staff, when not occupied by routine work, has been devoted to the re-arrangement, cataloguing and press-marking of several sections of the General Library and Bookstores. Three members of the Staff have obtained appointments in other libraries: Mr. V. Bailey as Librarian of the Oxford and Cambridge Club, Mr. J. H. P. Pafford as Librarian of the Rendel Harris Library, Birmingham, and Mr. P. B. James first as Sub-Librarian of the Middle Temple Library and later on the staff of the Victoria and Albert Museum. Mrs. A. F. Pollard has again given valuable voluntary assistance during the Session

During the Session 1924–5, 251 Students held keys of the Science Library, 48 of the Medical Science Library, and 755 of the different Arts Libraries. The number of books issued for home reading was 12,553.

Donations to the Library are recorded an pp. 102–106.

EVENING, VACATION, AND SPECIAL MEETINGS.

The evening activities of the College are steadily increasing, so that the buildings are now open on five evenings of the week for the purpose of special work, mainly of a postgraduate character.

In the Evening and Post-graduate School of History, the number of Students enrolled for the current Session is 159. The work of the School is highly appreciated by school teachers and specialists in History.

The number working in the Evening School of Geography is 74, which is an increase on last Session.

The Evening School of Phonetics and of Spoken Language attracts large numbers of teachers of Modern Languages, and its influence on methods of language teaching is rapidly spreading. There are 179 Students registered for the current Session.

Vacation Courses in Spoken English for Foreign Students and in French Phonetics for Teachers of French were organised in the summer, and were attended by 295 persons.

The meetings of the Philological Society, the Geologists' Association, the Jewish Historical Society, the Folk Lore Society, the London Section of the Incorporated Society of Musicians, and the University Faculty of Laws Society are held regularly in the College.

In addition to these, other Societies, including the Classical Journals Board, the British Psychological Society, the British Mycological and Ecological Societies, the Anglo-Hellenic Society, and the Society of Glass Technology have met from time to time.

The Convention of English-Speaking Ophthalmological Societies, July 1925, was held at the College. The Fourteenth Annual Conference of Educational Associations was held in January 1926. A Conference of Educational Associations, organised by the Teachers' Registration Council, met on 13th June, 1925. The following have also held meetings at the College:—The Shakespeare Reading Society, the British Society of Franciscan Studies, the Institution of Electrical Engineers, the Society of Aeronautical Engineers, the Institution of Chemical Engineers, the London Section of the Institute of Chemistry, the London Mathematical Society, the Newcomen Society, the Society of Experimental Biology, the Royal Institute of British Architects, and the School Nature Study Union. The American University Union and the Anglo-American Historical Conference held dinners in the College Refectory. Accommodation is provided for University Tutorial Classes.

SPECIAL EVENTS.

On 7th July, 1925, H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught visited the College and presented to Professor Sir Flinders Petrie the First Copy of the Petrie Medal for distinguished work in Archæology that has been instituted by a body of subscribers in commemoration of his great contributions to that branch of knowledge.

On 30th October, 1925, a Reception and Concert of Scandinavian Music was held to inaugurate the Appeal for £10,000 for the endowment of the Department of Scandinavian Studies as part of the Centenary Appeal. T.R.H. the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Sweden and H.R.H. the Crown Prince of Norway honoured the College with their presence on that occasion (see also p. 23).

On Saturday, 7th February, 1925, 140 Australian Cadets visited the College under the auspices of the League of Empire. They were received by the Vice-Chancellor, the Provost, and other members of the College, and were conducted in parties over several parts of the buildings, subsequently being entertained at luncheon.

On 30th April the annual Fellows' Dinner was held. Dr. H. Forster Morley presided, and Viscount Elveden, the Vice-Chancellor (Professor Ernest Gardner), the Acting-Chairman of the Professorial Board (Professor H. E. Butler), the Senior Tutor (Colonel H. J. Harris), and Professor Arthur Green were the Special Guests.

On 8th June, 1925, some members of the Medical Faculty of Lyons visited the new Department of Anatomy, provided by the benefaction of the Rockefeller Foundation of New York, and were entertained at luncheon.

On 25th June the formal opening of the Johnston-Lavis Geophysical Collection, bequeathed by the late Dr. Henry James Johnston-Lavis, was performed by Sir Henry A. Miers, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Manchester. The Collection was then open to inspection at No. 134 Gower Street, where it has been temporarily housed.

On 3rd July the Third Dinner of the Ramsay Memorial Fellowship Trustees and of the Ramsay Memorial Fellows was held.

The Annual Charter Day Dinner, for which invitations had been issued for 27th November, was cancelled owing to the death of Her Majesty Queen Alexandra.

STUDENTS' SOCIETIES.

The following brief résumé is based on the Society Reports received for the Session 1924-25, supplemented in some cases by more recent information :—

The Union Society and the Women's Union Society record another Session of steady progress. The Inter-Union Standing Committee does valuable work in acting as a link between the two Societies and in co-ordinating the social activities of the various branches of Student life. In Foundation Week last March the play presented by the Dramatic Society was "The Admirable Crichton," which was produced with great success by Mr. S. M. Gossage. A topical revue entitled "All Change!" was presented by Mr. W. J. Balls, the local humour of which provoked much mirth. The Foundation Oration was delivered by the Viscount Cecil of Chelwood on "The Future of the League." The Foundation Dinner was held in the College Refectory and the Foundation Dance in the temporary Great Hall. A Debate was also arranged.

The Athletic Clubs of the Union Society have had a successful season. The construction of the new Western Avenue, which cut across the top of the Athletic Ground at Perivale, left the main playing fields four acres smaller and less convenient in shape. To remedy this, seven acres of land adjoining have been acquired and have been drained and levelled. The Rugby Football Club has won both the Intercollegiate and the Technology Cups, and the Union Hockey Club came first in the Intercollegiate Competition. The Association Football Club included in their number two Amateur Internationals, I. M. Hamilton and R. G. C. Jenkins. In the contest for the Rosebery Cup at the U.L.A.U. Sports the College only came second, but led in the three team events, the Cross-Country, the Relay Race, and the Tug-of-War. The Intercollegiate Boxing Cup was won by the College Club.

The Women's Union Society have continued their efforts to raise the fund for the extension of their Athletic Ground. The new Ground has been paid for, levelled and drained, and the tennis courts are laid, but it has been necessary to raise a loan to meet the remaining expenses of the erection and equipment of the new Pavilion, which was opened on the occasion of the Sports on June 25th by Lady Zia Wernher. A new cup has been presented to the Women's Union Society by the Old Students' Association, to be awarded to the winner of the High Jump. The Rowing Section of the Boating Club has now been formed into a separate Club. The Intercollegiate Hockey Cup has been won for the second year in succession by the Second Eleven. The Semi-Final of the Intercollegiate Cup-Tie was reached and the College team was second in the U.L.A.U. Swimming Sports.

Both Union Societies are to a large extent concentrating their social efforts this Session on means of raising the sum of £5,000, which they have undertaken to endeavour to contribute to the Centenary Appeal Fund.

The Faculty Societies again record a year of good work for the social and athletic welfare of the respective Faculties. The Arts and Science Societies have organised Dinners and Dances. The Engineering Society held nine meetings during last Session, and organised various visits to works and other places of engineering interest. In addition, the Annual Dinner, with Sir Alexander Kennedy, F.R.S., a past President, in the Chair, was held in the College Refectory and the Annual Dance in the Wharncliffe Rooms. The Bulletin issued by the Society has been continued.

The number of Special Societies has been added to by the recognition of the Greenough Club in the Department of Geology as a College Society.

The Dramatic Society has been very active, and shows steady progress in its standard of productions, its performances being now a distinct feature in the College social life. "Heartbreak House," by Bernard Shaw, was produced in the First Term with conspicuous success. Two or three informal productions were also arranged for members of the College. A new series of "The Little Plays of St. Francis," by Laurence Housman, which created such interest in January 1925, were again produced in January 1926, under the direction of Mr. W. A. G. Doyle-Davidson. The six evening performances and two matinées were in aid of the British Society of Franciscan Studies, the St. Christopher's Working Boys' Club and the College Dramatic Society.

The Literary Society has held many successful meetings, and papers of great interest have been read by members or by distinguished visitors, these including Miss Rebecca West, Mr. E. V. Knox, and Dr. Arthur Compton-Rickett. In addition there have been joint meetings with the Dramatic and Classical Societies. The principle of forming Study Circles has been continued and these meet for weekly discussions on such subjects as Folk Lore, Modern Poetry, and the like.

The Historical Society holds regular meetings, organises joint debates with the University of London Historical Society, rambles, and other social gatherings.

The Ancient History Circle has also had regular meetings, with lectures by Special Visitors. Its Annual Dinner was held in the College Refectory.

The Classical Society has suffered a heavy loss by the death of Professor Platt. It has, however, continued its activities, and six meetings were arranged last Session, with lecturers and papers by members of the Academic Staff or Students, as well as several socials. It has taken a leading part in securing the formation of a University Classical Society.

The French and German Societies have held Readings and other social meetings.

The Geographical Society sent a delegate to the Aberystwyth Conference of Geographical Societies. In addition to their ordinary meetings, they organised visits to the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley and to other places of interest to members.

The Botanical and Zoological Societies have held regular meetings. A new development in the programme of the Botanical Society has been a series of open discussions, when members have contributed short papers and exhibits. Besides indoor meetings, field excursions have been arranged.

The attendance at meetings of the Mathematical and Physical Society has shown an increase on former years. The Distinguished Visitor's Address was delivered by Professor E. V. Appleton, M.A., D.Sc., on "Some Scientific Problems in Wireless Telegraphy," before a large audience. A social, a theatre party, and a ramble with the Faculty of Science Society formed part of the year's programme.

The Chemical and Physical Society have also had an active year.

The Anthropological Society, recently formed for members of the College and Hospital, has held many meetings, when lectures or anthropological interest have been delivered by members of the staff and others. There have been conducted visits to the Zoological Gardens and the Horniman Museum of Antiquities. The Society started in 1924 with a small membership of 17; this has now risen to nearly 80. It has therefore fully justified its formation.

The Physiological Society, which is also a joint society for members of the College and Hospital, has held regular meetings, when instructive addresses of great interest have been given. The average attendance at each has been from 80 to 90.

The Musical Society shares with the Classical Society the heavy loss caused by the death of Professor Platt, who had been its President since its foundation nearly thirty years ago, and to whose great love for and knowledge of music, allied to a keen interest in the activities of the Society, it owes an incalculable debt. Chamber Concerts, to which outside friends have contributed as well as students, and at each of which the standard has been a high one, have given great enjoyment to those attending. In addition, Concerts have been provided by the Society for the evening of the Foundation Oration and the afternoon of the Assembly of Faculties. The Choral Section has now been re-formed as a Glee Club and as such is receiving good support. It has co-operated in a Musical Society Students' Concert and is now busy preparing for a Concert of its own.

The College Branch of the Student Christian Movement and of the University of London Catholic Society are both very active and have held many meetings. The former has also a number of Study Circles at work. At the opening of the Session its members arranged several Faculty Teas, to which Freshers and other Students were invited.

The Old Students' Association and the Guild of Graduates continue the important work of keeping past and present students in touch with each other and with College and University movements. The O.S.A. records a net increase of 71 in its membership. The social fixtures have been well attended and included last session a Dance, a Dinner, an At Home, and Hockey and Cricket Matches against Present Students. The Dinner, held in January 1926, with Sir Oliver Lodge and the Hon. John Collier as the principal guests, was the most successful one that has been been arranged by the Association.

The Guild of Graduates followed its annual custom of entertaining the new graduates to Dinner on the eve of Presentation Day, and is succeeding in creating a greater interest in general University affairs among its members.

The St. Christopher's Working Boys' Club continues its work for the boys in the neighbourhood of the College. Colonel Philip Carlebach, C.M.G., presided at the Annual Gymnastic Display in the College Gymnasium in May and addressed the boys. Following on the formation of a Wolf-Cub Pack, it has now been decided to form a Scout Club.

THE HALLS OF RESIDENCE.

On account of pressure of academic work, Mr. R. C. Richards resigned the position of Sub-Warden of University College Hall at the end of the Session 1924–25. Mr. S. Barratt, Assistant Lecturer in the Department of Chemistry, has succeeded him.

The news of the death of Miss Attree, who retired from the post of Matron during last session, was received with sorrow by the many generations of students who had known her.

University College Hall and College Hall, and their annexes, have been practically full during the whole year, subject only to occasional vacancies.

The Mary Brodrick Fund for College Hall, the institution of which was recorded last year, has been supplemented by a further donation from Miss Broderick of Fifty £1 shares in a Brazilian Company, the interest of which is to be used for the benefit of residents of the Hall.

The Council of College Hall received with the greatest regret the resignation of their Chairman, Sir Gregory Foster, owing to his enforced year's rest and absence from England for reasons of health. They have expressed their deep indebtedness to his wise guidance during the twenty-four years he has served on the Council, fourteen as Chairman, and their earnest hope that he will resume office with his health fully restored. Lady Lockyer was elected Chairman for the remainder of the year.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON, UNIVERSITY COLLEGE.

SCHOOL OF LIBRARIANSHIP.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

SESSION 1924–25.

In the Session 1924–25 the total number of admissions to the School of Librarianship was 106; of these, 63 were full-time Students (16 men and 47 women) and 43 were part-time Students (16 men and 27 women). There had been a decrease in the number of admissions during the preceding Session, the figures then being 49 full-time and 31 part-time Students, a total of 80. In view of the greater stringency in the selection of candidates for admission, the last Session has been the most successful in the history of the School; the quality of the Students was high and the results attained satisfactory.

Of the first-year Students, 36 were registered for the full Diploma Course; of the second-year Students, 27 were so registered. 30 candidates sat for the Final Examination, and of these 18 qualified for the Diploma, 5 were referred in one subject (viz., Library Organisation), and 7 failed. 24 candidates sat in Part I. of the examination, 14 passing, 3 being referred in one subject, and 7 failing. 31 Students other than those passing in Part I. or Part II. of the Diploma Examination won 88 Sessional Certificates, and 7 obtained 9 Certificates of the Library Association. The School of Librarianship Prize for the best two years' work was won by Miss Margaret S. Demchevsky, who had won the Director's Prize for the best work in Book-Selection in 1924; and the Director's Prize for 1925 was won by Mr. Evelyn Ansell, M.A.

During the vacations, most of the Students worked as volunteer assistants in certain Public Libraries and County Library centres, gaining useful experience; groups of Students or individuals also carried out tasks of re-classifying and re-cataloguing the libraries of various societies and schools, in some cases voluntarily and in others for the usual professional fee. Three Student-Assistants have been working concurrently with their attendance at the School in the University College Library and the Library of the University of London. The number of actual Library Assistants who are Students in the School is still much too small; but it is hoped that, as a result of a special circular addressed to Library Authorities throughout the country, there will be an increase of entrants, both from the staffs of libraries in London and the neighbourhood for part-time courses and for full-time courses from libraries in other parts of the country.

The work of the School is steadily growing. For the benefit of librarians, actual or prospective, in the many research departments and special libraries that are being established by industrial corporations, an advanced course has been introduced into the programme for next Session in Abstracting, Indexing, and Classification. This will, it is hoped, receive the support of those who attended the Conference on Special Libraries and Information Bureaux, held at Hoddesdon in 1924. The series of Public Lectures given last Session on "The Uses of Libraries" was so helpful that it has proved desirable to repeat four of these at the beginning of next Session. The value of the practical method of training adopted in Book-Selection is also becoming more and more apparent; all the work done in previous Sessions has been incorporated in an accumulating mass of bibliographical information, and from time to time select lists of books for the initial stock of rural and other libraries have been obtained from these sources. Throughout the second and third terms the University Examiner in this subject, Mr. G. F. Barwick, has inspected the work of the Students and given them valuable advice. All the members of the staff have co-operated loyally in covering as far as possible the multifarious subjects that modern librarianship now embraces, and in making their teaching realistic and practical. No effort has been spared to attain this end by means of supplementary lectures, demonstrations, and organised visits to libraries, printing and bookbinding works, and the like. Every success has attended the series of illustrated lectures in Bookbinding now given at the Central School of Arts and Crafts by Mr. Douglas Cockerell.

During the last Long Vacation, the library of technical literature attached to the School was thoroughly overhauled, re-classified, and re-catalogued. The number of accessions this Session has been 164 volumes and 16 pamphlets, in addition to 568 volumes and 499 pamphlets (including 540 volumes and 319 pamphlets from the library of the late Mr. H. R. Tedder) added to the Library Association Library The School Library is in continual use by Students, to some extent even in vacations.

Past Students have been fairly successful in obtaining good appointments, as will be seen from the appended list. Several have secured chief appointments in County Libraries, but the number entering the municipal library service is not so large as it should be. Most library authorities still recruit their staffs with young assistants having only a primary or secondary school education, although none would refuse formal assent to the view that a liberal education and a thorough professional training are essential qualifications for all who aim at higher posts. The Director gave evidence on this subject before the Departmental Committee enquiring into the adequacy of library provision under the Public Libraries Act.

At the end of the Session 1923–24, the annual subsidy of £1,500 granted by the Carnegie United Kingdom Trustees during the first five years of the School came to an end. The Trustees are now making a reduced grant of £3,000 for the five years 1924–29. It has accordingly been necessary for the Senate to make up the deficiency. Efforts are, however, being made to secure a permanent endowment for the School.

The Entrance Exhibition in the School was won for the Sessions 1924–26 by Miss Jessie L. Waller, and for the Sessions 1925–27 by Miss Alice Pickles. Three Free Places in the School were awarded in 1924–25 to Miss Hilda M. Clark, Miss Madge V. Chilvers, and Miss Edith N. Gibbons, who were among the candidates for the Exhibition.

Report on the Sixth Summer School—31st August to 12th September, 1925.

The Summer School this Session was held in Paris from August 31st to September 12th. Thirty-eight Students entered their names, but two were obliged by unforeseen circumstances to withdraw, and the actual attendances numbered thirty-six, which may be compared with the forty-three of 1924 at Brussels. Sixteen were regular Students of the School of Librarianship; the remainder comprised 13 from England, 1 from Wales, 1 from Scotland, 2 from Ireland, 2 from Holland, and 1 from Japan.

By the kind co-operation of the American Library Association, the lectures were given in the rooms used by the École de Bibliothécaires in the American Library, 10 Rue de l'Élysée, where every effort was made by the staff of the Library and of the École de Bibliothécaires to promote the comfort and convenience of the Students and Lecturers. Accommodation was found for those attending the School in various maisons des étudiants and similar institutions; a few of the men were housed in one of the Lycées of Paris.

The programme differed considerably from that of the Brussels School. M. Dottin, Docteur ès Lettres of the University of Toulouse, whose services had been secured at the suggestion of the Recteur of the University of Paris, gave a most instructive series of ten lectures on the Contemporary French Novel, which formed a useful complement to the Director's Course on the Contemporary English Novel; Mr. Sayers dealt with the Various Uses of Classification; Mr. Esdaile with the Cataloguing of Early Printed Books; Mr. Sanderson with Problems of Modern Library Administration; and Mr. Hilary Jenkinson with the Principles of Archive Management and Study, with Special Reference to English Local Records. These latter were short courses of five lectures each.

The Students were taken to the Bibliothèque Nationale, the Bibliothèqu Sainte-Geneviève, the Archives, and the Library and Museum in the Château of Chantilly, and enjoyed the advantage of being conducted over the buildings and collections by the conservateurs or chief administrators. They were also received by Mrs. Griffiths, Chairman of the Fondation du Book Committee on Children's Libraries des États-Unis, and Mlle. Huchot, Librarian of the Bibliothèque Municipale l'Heure Joyeuse, where there was an interesting discussion on the library movement initiated in France by members of the American Library Association. Other visits were made to the Cluny and Carnavalet Museum, the Louvre, the Rodin and other Museums, to the Château and Museum of St. Germaine-en-Laye, to Versailles, Fontainebleau, Chartres, and Amiens.

This was the sixth Summer School that has been held, and the second Continental one, under the auspices of the School of Librarianship. The Students showed unflagging interest in both the lectures and the organised visits; they made full use of the opportunities for studying the working methods of the great foreign libraries, and the high educational value of a Vacation School held in a large Continental city was again illustrated by the whole experience.

The School was visited on March 27th by the Visiting Board of the Royal Institute of British Architects, who inspected the accommodation, apparatus and work of the various years.

This Session several notable successes have been achieved by the students, including the Victory Scholarship (value £100), which was won by Mr. C. H. Short, and the Owen Jones Stndentship for the Study of Ornament and Colour Decoration (value £100), which was won by Miss Leonora Payne. Mr. C. H. Short was also awarded the Ronald Jones Travelling Studentship for Travel and Study in France. In addition, six students won admission to the final stage for the Prix de Rome; of these one was selected for the final competition. One student, Mr. W. Scarlett, B.A. (Lond.), 1920, was appointed resident architect to the British Section (Board of Trade Overseas Branch) for the Paris Exhibition of Decorative Art, held from April to October, 1925.

I am fortunate in having the assistance of Mr. Arthur Stratton as Reader, and of Mr. Hector Corfiato as Senior Instructor in Design. I wish to express my thanks to my colleague, Professor Adshead, for his help given to my students in the Department of Town Planning, and I also wish to express my appreciation of the services of Mr. Jaggard, Lecturer in Construction, who, in addition to the day work in the Studio, has initiated an evening class in Construction, which promises to develop. The appointment of an Instructor in Decorative Design in the person of Mr. Warren Wilson has proved very successful; the students are now trained in this branch, not only in the Department but also at the British Museum and at the Victoria and Albert Museum, with gratifying results. The Staff have lost the services of Mr. Stanley Furner, Assistant, who has resigned to take up a lectureship at the Witwatersrand University, Johannesburg.

I am satisfied with the progress made by the Atelier students. There is a fine spirit of co-operation among the members, and nearly all have completed the requisite number of designs essential for membership. We are hoping to increase the scope of postgraduate work.

Mr. Stratton has given several Public Lectures this Session and has lectured to intercollegiate students of the Department of History I have given two Public Lectures on London Bridges in connection with the Department of History in continuation of a series initiated by Miss Jeffries Davis; and I have lectured at Bedford, Reading, and other places.

Thanks to the co-operation of Professor Tonks, my advanced students have been permitted to continue their studies from Life in the Slade School, and, as a reciprocal measure, certain Slade students have attended courses of lectures on the History of Architecture given by Mr. Stratton and myself. It is hoped to increase the scope of these inter-departmental lectures and to interest other Departments in the study of Architecture.

In collaboration with Professor Coker, a scheme has been devised whereby Third and Fourth Year Students receive instruction in Reinforced Concrete and Steel Work from a member of his staff; it is hoped to extend facilities for training in these methods of construction next year.

With regard to publications, Mr. Stratton has been engaged on research work in connection with architectural design and history, and I have been preparing material for two new books on architectural subjects in addition to contributions to the Architectural and Public Press.

A feature of the Department this session has been the continuous exhibition of students' work, augmented from time to time by fresh designs as they were completed. I am indebted to various eminent architects for copies of working drawings and designs of buildings recently carried out or actually in process of erection; it is hoped to form a valuable collection of such drawings, which can be referred to for technical information. I believe this collection to be unique.

The experiment of inviting the public to attend the School lectures has been partially successful, but in my opinion it should be made clear to those of the public who take up architecture that a certain amount of drawing in the studios should form part of the training.

(Signed) A. E. RICHARDSON,

June 30th, 1925. Professor.

DEPARTMENT OF TOWN-PLANNING.

The general acceleration of town-planning schemes throughout the country has contributed to increasing interest in the subject. There would, no doubt, be many more students in the School were it not that those to whom the classes would be most useful are busily engaged in offices and have insufficient time to attend; however, the number is gradually increasing. The number of students attending during the Session 1924–25 is shown in the summary of entries in the general report of the School of Architecture.

It is to be regretted that, owing to the death of Lord Leverhulme, the Lever Prizes must be suspended. Last year the Lever Prizes in Town Planning were awarded as follows:—

First Prize: Mr. C. D. J. Benton.
Second Prize: Mr. Beaufoy and Mr. Chitale (eq.).

(Signed) S. D. ADSHEAD,
Professor.
